

Mohsen is a medical doctor. He got his PhD in epidemiology in 2012, with a thesis in cost-effectiveness of malaria elimination strategies in Iran. He worked in Health Economic and Health Technology Assessment (HEHTA), in university of Glasgow for last three years. He joined PenTAG in May 2018. He is disease modeler in PenTAG. He is expert in using Treeage software for CE studies.

Research interests:

- Disease modelling
- Cost-effectiveness studies
- Epidemiologic studies